

Privacy Policy:

Pollack Law Firm respects your privacy and personal information. The information you provide to us will only be used in the manner specified in this policy or as otherwise permitted by law.

The materials on this website are provided solely for informational purposes and do not constitute legal advice. Transmission of these materials is not intended to create an attorney-client relationship. These materials do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Pollack Law Firm or any of its attorneys or clients, and are not guaranteed to be correct, complete, or up to date.

This website is not intended to be advertising, and our attorneys do not wish to enter into a representation with anyone desiring representation based on viewing these materials in a state where this website fails to comply with the laws and professional responsibility rules of that state.

For your protection, please do not send confidential information to us until you receive authorization from one of our attorneys. Any unsolicited request or information received will not be regarded as confidential. Should you choose to submit personally-identifiable information after receiving authorization from one of our attorneys, that information will be used for the purposes for which you have provided it, and for other purposes that are consistent with this policy and permitted by law.

Pollack Law Firm strives to safeguard your personal information. However, data transmissions over the Internet cannot be guaranteed as 100% secure. Any transmission you make is done at your own risk. We cannot be responsible for disclosures of your personal information, and we encourage you to exercise caution in selecting the information you choose to send via the Internet.
